CONDITION OF THE MARKETS

Light Business in Wheat, with Tendency in the Direction of Lower Prices.

Corn Quiet and Featureless, Closing at Lower Figures-Oats Heavy-Provisions Moderately Active but Very Unsettled.

MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS, A Strong and Moderately Active Market,

Closing at Higher Prices. NEW YORK, May 1 .- Money on call was easy, ranging from 2 to 3 per cent, the last loan being made at 21, closing offered at 21. Prime mercantile paper, 526 per cent.

Foreign exchange was quiet and weak at $4.86@4.86\ for sixty-day bills and $4.87\ @4.88 for demand. The total sales of stocks to-day were 307,106 shares, including the following: Canada Southern, 3,780; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 14,035; Erie, 18,500; Kansas & Texas, 1,015; Lake Shore, 8,825; Louisville & Nashville, 18,-641; Missouri Pacific, 8,845; Northwestern, 8,573; New Jersey Central, 2,400; Northern Pacific preferred, 12,575; New England, 23,900; Oregon Transcontinental, 10,407; Pacific Mail, 8,690; Reading, 35,150; Richmond & West Point, 22.960; St. Paul, 34,405; Texas Pacific, 9,965;

Union Pacific, 15,650; Western Union, 11,340. The stock market was again strong, though only moderately active to-day, and notwith-standing that there was more "beat" pressure than usual, almost all the active list scored fractional gains for the day. The fact that there was a holiday in London to-day and no quotations from that center was taken advantage of by the "bears" and the traders to bring about a further reaction, but the demand for stocks was so great at the small concession brought about that the "bears" and their allies started in to cover, which soon brought prices above the level of jast evening's figures. The news of the day was, if anything, favorable, and the action of the Secretary of the Treasury in taking all the bonds offered was of considerable influence later in the day, supporting the market against the usual realizations. The Gould stocks, especially the lower-priced ones, were prominent for strength, but some new favorites came to the front and materially forwarded the upward tendency of prices. Pacific Mail was one of these, and it was very strong on rumors of a new subsidy from Washington. New England was again very active, though not as strong as usual of late, while Missouri Pacific and Louisville & Nashville were leaders in the market, especially after the early decline, and St. Paul was unusually strong on favorable advices from the West. Richmond & West Point was beavily traded in, while Reading was comshowed any marked improvement throughout the day. The opening was weak for the first of from to per cent generally, and further fractional losses were sustained in the early trading, though the weakness was of short duration only, while the only decline of importance was in Missouri Pacific, which lost 12 per cent. The recovery followed quickly, and was led by Louisville & Nashville and Pacific Mail, the latter shooting up 12. There was more general strength toward noon, however, and the entire list moved up, but after that time the market became very quiet, and some reaction was seen, though the changes were in but few cases more than insignificant fractions. There was a fever-

the market finally closed quiet, but firm, generally at fractions better than the opening figures. The active list is almost invariably higher, and Pacific Mail rose 12 and St. Paul 1 per cent. Railroad bonds were only moderately active, the total sales amounting to $1,374,000, and while the list was firm to strong, there was no special feature beyond the activity and strength in Fort Worth & Denver firsts, which furnished $244,000 to the day's total and closed I per cent. higher, at 85. Atlantic & Pacific incomes were also active, their sales reaching $113,000. Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio seconds rose 3, to 101, and Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe firsts ish tone throughout the afternoon, but toward the end of the session a firm tone prevailed, and Government bonds were quiet, but firm. State bonds were dull and steady. Closing

CHICAGO, May 1.—Monthly deliveries of wheat were heavy, of corn and oats light, and provisions moderate. The regular carriers and the trade generally got the wheat. The trading in wheat was not so spirited as usual. There was a remarkable falling off of crop-damage reports, and the "bulls" had to fall back on weather, higher English markets, the report of a big decrease in Liverpool stocks, and the good export clearings from the seaboard. There was no outside business to speak of. Abundant rains east of the Rocky mountains are reported, and many believe the damage to the crop in California was overestimated. June wheat opened at 82 c, fluctuated during the greater part of the session beetween 82 to and 83c, and closed weak on realizing by local holders at 82 to. Corn was quiet and featureless from start to finish. There was considerable selling of May, and some changing to July at le difference, and there was also a fair trade in June. As in wheat, there was no outside business. June opened at 55%c, ranged up to 55%c, and down to 54%c, where it closed. Oats were rather heavy. June opened at 32%c, and sold down at the close to 32tc. Provisions were moderately active, but unsettled. Deliveries in May contracts were only fair. Stocks to be published to-morrow are expected to show little change from last mouth. Arrivals of hogs were lighter and prices 10c higher. There was little lard offered early, and free bidding by one of the largest holders advanced prices .07 to. Sellers became more numerous on the bulge, a weaker feeling developed and the appreciation was lost. Pork developed, and the appreciation was lost. Pork was quiet within a range of 12½ to 15c. July is now the favorite, and sold at $13.90@13.95, closing at $13.77½. July lard sold at $@8.15c, and closed at 3.02½c. Short ribs ranged at 7.35@7.42½c and closed at 7.35c. The leading futures ranged as follows:

Excitement in the Metal Market.

NEW YORK, May 1 .- The New York Metal Exchange was the scene of wild excitement today. News of a sudden drop in the foreign tin markets was received early on the exchange here. The decline was equivalent to £10 per ton. It was evident that many speculators at home and abroad were seriously crippled. The excitement in the New York market was so great that it was decided to suspend both the regular daily calls for transactions in tin. Secretary Scheyvor, of the Metal Exchange, said: "Although no actual failures have taken place. it was feared that if the calls were continued as usual to-day several speculators would be compelled to announce their inability to meet their engagements." The dealers were indeed glad to take a rest. They felt that it was necessary to have a breathing spell. Those who were on the verge of failure were afforded opportunity to make arrangements to settle their obligations. The London syndicate, it was said, had become discouraged and withdrawn all of its buying orders. Much anxiety exists as to what will be the developments for to-morrow. It is probable that the calls in tin, which were suspended today, may be again omitted to-morrow.

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS.

Cool Weather Checking Trade-Prices in the Main Firm. 6

INDIANAPOLIS, May 1. The raw air of two days past has acted as a cold blanket on trade. There is a feeling that winter has lasted long enough and genuine hot weather will be greatly appreciated Southern vegetables and strawberries are in good supply but sell slow this cool weather. The southern products coming on to the market are unusually good this season, some of the strawberries al most equaling those of nearer home production in size and quality. New potatoes are weak at quotations, old ones selling better than new stock as yet. Warmer weat her would doubtless create a better demand for the latter. Eggs are firmer, but quotably unchanged. The egg market has taken a different turn from what was expected. With an increased demand prices have assumed an advancing rather than declining tendency. Choice butter is still very scarce and our best prices are readily realized. Poultry is steady, but hardly as firm as last week. The provision market the last day or two has brightened and a decidedly better demand at about the same range of prices has sprung up. The flour mar-ket is certainly taking better shape. The Bos-ton Journal says of this market: 'The demand for flour has continued good, and prices firm and advancing. While the amount of flour sold has been of increased proportions, the transac-tions would undoubtedly have been much larger had receivers been willing to shade prices from the advance. In fact, jobbers were eager to buy large lines at the prices quoted before the advance, but sellers would not consider such offers. The trade is undoubtedly in a decidedly favorable position, and one from which it is be-lieved it will not readily recede. Certainly, as long as the wheat market continues to improve, flour will maintain a strong tone. The stocks in jobbers' hands are light, and in the face of an jobbers' hands are light, and in the face of an advancing market they are anxious to secure supplies." In groceries only a fair trade is in progress, prices on all staple articles ruling firm and unchanged. The hide market continues 22 Bs average, 114c; English sured breakfast bacon.

more active, and better prices in the near future would not be a surprise. The lumber market has become very active. Prices are steady, and the dealers are looking for a big summer trade.
All conditions favor such an expectation. Hardware men, as well, are baving an excellent trade, but are selling goods on small margins, so sharp is competition.

The attendance on 'Change to-day was small and the bidding rather indifferent. The movement of grain, as indicated by receipts and shipments, is for past few days somewhat lighter than for previous two days. Inspectors report seventy-seven cars inspected in, as against eighty-six cars for two days preceding. Wheat con-tinues to be sought after diligently, but with rather unsatisfactory results. On the call board No. 2 red was offered at 89c, with but 87th bid; No. 2 red was offered at 89c, with but 87tc bid; it is salable at 87t 288c, at which price sales were made after call. White corn continues to be without friends, the usual buyers being more than supplied. Local demand is limited to ear corn, which finds fair sale at 54 2 55tc, the latter price being for yellow Indiana. Sales of mixed ear were reported at 5ttc. The shipping demand for mixed and yellow grades is very good. Oats market shows an improvement. The demand for local use is good, as it is also for shipping. Feeds are quoted firm. The demand is of a small hand-to-mouth sharacter, yet there is enough of such trade to make acter, yet there is enough of such trade to make a good market. Hay market is strong, with fair offerings. Track bids to-day ruled as fol-

Nothing is more ornamental in a dressing-

A Toilet Table. Detroit Tribune.

room than a pretty toliet table. You can get along nicely without a dressing bureau, supposing you have a small chest of drawers, if you have a table especially arranged for the toilet; and if you have a bureau you will always find enough to put on the top of it, even if you have another place for toilet articles. A very decorative affair of this kind can be gotten up at slight expense. To begin with, the frame is made of pine. A half circle of the required size is set upon three legs. At the back an upright piece is fastened to form the framework, and as it is to be entirely concealed, the main point is to have it firm and seenrely fastened so that the table will stand perfectly stationary. A carpenter will make one at a slight charge, or if one of the male members of the household has much ingenuity with the saw and hammer he can easily construct so simple a contrivance as this. Cretonne and lace or dotted muslin over a delicate color in cambric and cheese-cloth can be used for the drapery. Nine or ten yards of material, whether it be lace, muslin or chintz, is sufficient. There should be under the solid material used, a loose lining of unbleached cotton or cheese-cloth. The top of the table should be covered first, stretching the material across to where the lining for the drapery can be tacked on. Hem the muslin drapery top and bottom, and put it on in small pleats. The outer cover for the top can be trimmed with a ruffle of the same or edged with some of the cheap washing lace which can be purchased at about six cents a yard. Make two coverings for the top, so that one can be put on while the other is being washed. If an upright framework is used this should be covered like the lower part, before attaching the drapery. A simpler and quite as effective a way is to hang back of the table a curtain of the muslin or lace over cheese-cloth, attached to a brass rod. Against this the mirror may be hung and decorated according to the fancy. In the absence of handsome boxes for the table the owner can make her own in this fashion. Two pasteboard slipper boxes may be broken apart and covered with the material of the drapery. Sew the boxes together again, and finish the edge of the covers with frills of the muslin or lace. These will be found very useful as well as ornamental receptacles for combs and brushes or bits of ribbons and laces. Two small Japanese jars for holding hair-pins, glove buttoners, etc., can be obtained at about ten cents apiece. Smaller ones for vasaline or cold cream may stand on a china or Japanese tray. There should be a manicure set and a pair of glass cologne bottles and a glass powder jar. These are quite as pretty when not covered with satin, as the gleam of the glass and the liquid itself is ornamental. The decorated bag for combings, hand-mirror and bangle board may be arranged around the mirror. The pin-cushion should occupy the center of the table, and when the latter is covered with lace or muslin over a color should be of the same ma-
